Museum News:

- “Santa’s Workshop” Exhibit concluded on January 8th. Exhibits and decorations were taken down and placed ‘back in the vault’ for next year.
- Museum staff prepare for February’s Black History Month with our annual Black Heritage Stamp exhibit featuring this year’s U.S. Postal stamp recipient American Playwright, August Wilson.
- Museum Manager, Andrea Steen gave Zoom presentation to 24+ members of the Old Darlington District Chapter of the South Carolina Genealogical Society regarding the H.H. Butler and Odd Fellows Digitization Project funded by the South Carolina Humanities.
- We welcome new intern, Sarah Webster. Sarah is a junior at Coker University majoring in Communications and minoring in Criminology. She is looking to broaden her visual communication skills through observing documents she will be working with. Sarah will be assisting the museum with the H.H. Butler and Odd Fellow Digitization project, social media platforms, and exhibit interpretation.
- January Donations included: A 1940’s Fur Coat from J.L. Coker Department store, 31 Political Campaign buttons, a first generation iPod and a 1965 Blazon toddler ride along pony with wheels.
