

Proclamation

WHEREAS, Dylan Morrison Adams, through athletic excellence, helped earn our City two Dixie Youth World Series titles at the Hartsville Northern League, while claiming the batting title at the 2017 World Series and setting the South Carolina state record for home runs in a game; and,

WHEREAS, above his athletic feats, Dylan was always smiling and never met a stranger. His affable presence had a positive impact on everyone who came in contact with him; and,

WHEREAS, Dylan was brave, courageous and strong, while never faltering in his fight with cancer and continued to brighten any room he entered with his warm and loving smile; and,

WHEREAS, Dylan left a legacy on the baseball diamond that includes induction into the South Carolina Dixie Youth Hall of Fame and having the fields he shined on growing up in North Hartsville named in his honor; and,

WHEREAS, Dylan's impact can be continuously felt through the eleemosynary works of the Dylan Adams Endowment, which is highlighted by the Dylan Adams Memorial Battle of the Bats, a tournament that brings baseball players from all over the Carolinas to Hartsville to play in his honor and benefit the Endowment.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Casey Hancock, Mayor of the City of Hartsville in the State of South Carolina do hereby proclaim December 14, 2023 as in the City of Hartsville and ask all citizens of this great city to remember the great person Dylan was and the accomplishments he achieved, while also recognizing the impact his legacy, through the graciousness of his parents, Mike and Jennifer, is having on families faced with caring for a loved one with pediatric cancer.

IN WITNESS THEREOF, I hereunto set my hand and cause to be affixed the seal of the City of Hartsville.
